Dear Mr. Landkamer,

Re your letter of November 12th, I do not recall ever receiving copies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key.

With my work in Washington plus 50 overseas trips a year, I'm just not in touch with the activities that I had in my youth.

Sincerely,

Peter Grace

Dear Mr. Grace:

Thank you for your letter of November 4, 1985, in response to my previous letter to you of October 29th. In your previous letter to me of October 22, 1985, you stated that you had read all of my correspondence with Mr. Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association, and that you "endorse everything he has said." On January 29, 1985, KTA Treasurer Radley H. Daly wrote to me alleging that when the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, "was published in 1978, only enough copies were printed to distribute to members of the society and to members of the academic administration at Yale." Hence, my questions to you are as follows:

(1) Did you receive copies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, in 1978, as alleged by Mr. Daly? In other words, were copies of this two volume History sent to all living members of Scroll and Key at that time, or were copies only distributed to some of the more active members without including you?

(2) If you did receive copies of this History in 1978, do you still have them?

(3) If the answer to my previous question is yes, then will you sell me photocopies? As an alternative, if you are no longer interested in this organization, will you sell me your original two volume set of A History of Scroll and Key?

Enclosed is a photocopy of the November 4, 1985, letter that I received from Mr. Dean Grace, who is an expert in Freemasonry, regarding his speculations as to what the letters "C.S.P." and "C.C.J." might possibly mean. (Incidentally, Mr. Dean Grace has informed me that he is not in any way related to you.) Photocopies of my "Dean Grace - Freemasonry File" to date, which weighs about 1½ pounds, are available for $12.00 per set in case you or any of my other correspondents are interested. Some of my activist contacts already have it. So awaiting your reply, I am,

Very truly yours,

Dear Richard:

Here are some thoughts about the letters C.S.P., and C.C.J. concerning the Kingsley Trust. The word "Pontiffs" used in the "Thank you" note by "Nod of '80 Jan. 1932 (1 sheet) Card No. Yeg2 K61" led me to more closely scrutinize the Masonic degree called "Grand Pontiff" in the Lodge of Perfection as described in Richardson's Monitor of Free-Masonry. Upon a close inspection of the "Grand Pontiff" degree, I venture that the letters C.S.P. could mean "Chapter of Sublime Pontiffs." I also venture that C.C.J. mean "Chapter of Celestial Jerusalem" (see pp. 166, 167, & 168 Monitor of Free-Masonry).

Richardson's Monitor of Free-Masonry dated 1860 lists the Ineffable (unutterable) Degrees, also known as the Lodge of Perfection, as having twenty-eight degrees. This list of degrees is essentially the Scottish Rite of today without degrees: 11, 21, 22, 29, & 31. Albert Pike is credited with putting the Scottish Rite into its present form with thirty-three degrees during and just following the Civil War. It looks like the "Grand Pontiff" degree was being worked in the Masonic lodges at the time that Scroll & Key was founded. Hope all this is a "real" piece of the puzzle and not a wild goose chase.

As a shot in the dark about Yale's 15 please note that the 10th degree in the Scottish Rite is called "Elu or Master Elect of Fifteen." This degree takes fifteen Masons to perform the ritual. This 10th degree existed prior to 1860 as described in Richardson's Monitor of Free-Masonry.

Keep me posted as to the validity of the rumor in your letter of 25 October to me.

Best,

and regards,

I am sincerely,

Dean Grace

I am not an officer of Scroll and Key or a member of its governing body.

I was taken in May 1935 as part of my student career at Yale where being chosen for senior societies was considered an honor.

I left Yale and have been busy on other things all over the world ever since.

I don't know the answers to your questions - I am just a former college kid member.

Dear Mr. Grace:

Thank you for your letter of October 22, 1985, in response to my previous letter to you of October 9th.

You are obviously offended by what I and presumably others have written regarding Scroll and Key. I submit that most of this controversy could be definitively resolved if we had access to the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key. Yet whenever any outside critics and/or independent researchers attempt to purchase either copies or photocopies of this official two volume History of Scroll and Key from any source, the answer is always the same: No! As was indicated in the photocopies that I sent to you, an independent publisher also attempted to purchase photocopies of A History of Scroll and Key, but his results were identical to mine.

You brand as "totally unfounded" my suggestion that Scroll and Key is a "society with a secret history that it wants concealed from the American people." So why is it that whenever any outside researcher attempts to purchase either copies or photocopies of the official two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, from any source, the answer is always the same, i.e., No! I have always found it more profitable to evaluate people and organizations either by what they do, or in this case refuse to do, rather than by what they say. I learned this technique years ago in trying to evaluate the self-serving rhetoric of various politicians. The contrast is often striking. If Scroll and Key has nothing to hide, then I should think that they would want outside researchers to have access to accurate historical information about Scroll and Key. Yet the very last thing that Scroll and Key appears to want is for any outside researchers to possess copies or photocopies of their official two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key. Why?

One of my contacts, an expert in Freemasonry, informs me that the Scroll and Key logo on the letterhead of the Kingsley Trust Association "is internationally recognized as the symbol for the Treasurer in any Masonic lodge", which may or may not be a coincidence. I understand that most Masons freely admit their membership in any Masonic organization. On the other hand, Freemasonry is characterized by secret occult rituals, words, passwords, signs, and oaths of secrecy, etc. Is this the reason why independent researchers can acquire photocopies (piecemeal and with great difficulty) of the entire 640 page 1979 Catalogue of the Kingsley Trust Association from Sterling Memorial Library at Yale University, but not the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key? Would you agree that the History of Scroll and Key is as secret as the mysterious esoteric letters "C.S.P." and "C.C.J."?

If you really want to perform a valuable "voluntary public service", I suggest that you resolve this controversy once and for all, and offer to sell me photocopies of the official two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key. So awaiting your reply, I am,

Very truly yours,

Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Landkamer,

Thank you for your letter of October 9th. I am glad you found Mr. Meehan's letter to be helpful.

Scroll and Key is a fraternal association of Yale College undergraduates. I have been a member for more than 50 years and I never encountered anything whatever to support your totally unfounded suggestion that it is a "society with a secret history that it wants concealed from the American people."

I read the correspondence and I think Mr. Radley H. Daly has dealt with you truthfully and indeed over-generously. I endorse everything he has said.

My fellow employees of W. R. Grace & Co. and I are working very hard on both our business tasks and on voluntary public service. Accordingly I regret we are not in a position to spend any more time in corresponding with you on this subject.

Very truly yours,

Peter

OPEN LETTER

Richard A. Landkamer
3805 Sherwood Lane, Apt. 21
Houston, Texas 77092
October 9, 1985

Mr. J. Peter Grace
Grace Plaza
1114 Avenue of the Americas
New York, New York 10036

Dear Mr. Grace:

Thank you for the reply of October 2, 1985, which I received from your Administrative Assistant, Mr. John J. Meehan, in response to my previous letter to you of September 14, 1985, regarding the Knights of Malta. At least I now know something about the particular Knights of Malta organization of which you are President.

I am addressing this letter to you, rather than to Mr. Meehan, because it concerns a completely different organization of which you are a member. I am writing to you about your membership in Scroll and Key, which is legally incorporated as the Kingsley Trust Association (KTA). I won't go so far as to call Scroll and Key a secret society, since photocopies of the 640 page 1979 KTA Catalogue can be obtained with great difficulty on a piecemeal basis from Sterling Memorial Library at Yale University. Also, I understand that this Catalogue was given to Yale University Library by the Kingsley Trust Association. In any event, according to page 327 of the 1979 KTA Catalogue, you were initiated into Scroll and Key in 1936. I have not seen any other biography in which your membership in this organization is disclosed.

However, I do have ample evidence to conclude that Scroll and Key is a society with a secret history that it wants concealed from the American people. There exists an official two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, which is currently being treated like a "state secret for eyes of members only". As proof of this, I enclose photocopies of my self-explanatory correspondence with (1) Mr. Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association (KTA), (2) Mr. Jack A. Siggins, Deputy University Librarian of Yale University Library, and (3) Dr. A. Bartlett Giamatti, President of Yale University and the author of volume 2 of A History of Scroll and Key. As you can plainly see, all attempts to purchase photocopies of this secret History of Scroll and Key have been a venture in futility. Their only excuse is that these books are copyrighted. Certainly the owner of the copyright can sell me photocopies if he (Giamatti) and/or it (the KTA) wants to. As far as I'm concerned, if the KTA had nothing to hide, then by now they would be clamoring to sell me photocopies.

You will note that on January 29, 1985, KTA Treasurer Radley H. Daly wrote to me alleging that when the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, "was published in 1978, only enough copies were printed to distribute to members of the society and to members of the academic administration at Yale." Hence, if Mr. Daly's allegations are true, then as a member of this organization you should have received copies of this secret two volume History of Scroll and Key back in 1978. Therefore, I have a simple request to make of you: Will you sell me photocopies of this secret two volume History of Scroll and Key? Or have you taken an oath of secrecy to this organization that prohibits you from doing so? If you are willing to sell me photocopies of this secret History, I will be more than happy to reimburse you for all costs involved.

One last question: What do the letters "C.S.P." and "C.C.J." mean? These letters are in the official title of the 1979 KTA Catalogue, and yet they are conspicuously missing in the list of abbreviations contained in this Catalogue. Do these letters have some secret meaning? Are they of esoteric Masonic origins?

Thank you. Awaiting your reply, I am,

Very truly yours,

Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Landkamer,

Your recent letter requesting information about the American Association of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta has been referred to me to answer because Mr. Grace was in England when your letter arrived and he did not want to delay a response to you.

The American Association does not publish an annual report. However, it files with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service an annual tax return which lists all of its receipts, expenses and contributions. This return is on Form 990 and is available to inspection by the public on application to the IRS.

Our Members are kept apprised of the activities of our Association by reports made at Annual Meetings and in a Newsletter published at various times throughout the year.

Mr. Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Landkamer,

Your recent letter requesting information about the American Association of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta has been referred to me to answer because Mr. Grace was in England when your letter arrived and he did not want to delay a response to you.

The American Association does not publish an annual report. However, it files with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service an annual tax return which lists all of its receipts, expenses and contributions. This return is on Form 990 and is available to inspection by the public on application to the IRS.

Our Members are kept apprised of the activities of our Association by reports made at Annual Meetings and in a Newsletter published at various times throughout the year.

The membership list of the American Association is not available to the general public. However, a brochure describing the Association and the Order is enclosed. All of our Members are required to be practicing Roman Catholics in order to gain admission to the Order.

The Sovereign Military Order of Malta has its headquarters at 68 Via Condotti, Rome, Italy. There are a number of publications in several languages on various aspects of the history and work of the Order. If you write to the headquarters, you will be able to obtain a list of such publications and instructions for ordering copies.

The Order also publishes an annual report (Annuaire) in the French language which describes the activities of the Order throughout the world.

There is a recently published volume entitled: Orders of Knighthood, Awards and the Holy See written by Archbishop Iginio Cardinale who was the Papal Nuncio to Belgium prior to his death. This book traces carefully the roots of all of the organizations that claim validity by virtue of their connection to the Holy See. As your letter points out, there are a number of spurious orders in existence and the confusion they are causing was the subject of a recent article in The Wall Street Journal which I have also enclosed for your information.

The American Association, established in 1927, is one of three organizations authorized by the Order in the United States. The other two are the Western Association and the Southern Association. Each of these three Associations is valid and each is an integral part of The Sovereign Military Hospitaller Order of St. John of Jerusalem, of Rhodes and of Malta which is the formal title of the Order.

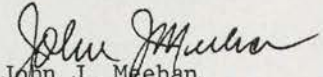

The Order is a legal entity which has been solemnly approved by the Holy See and its sovereignty is acknowledged by more than 40 nations with which the Order maintains diplomatic relations and exchanges Ambassadors.

The Order has a Grand Master who has a rank equivalent to that of a Cardinal in the Roman Catholic Church. The religious character of the Order is maintained by Knights who take solemn religious vows of poverty, chastity and obedience with the approval of the Holy See.

In addition, the Constitutional Charter and the Code of the Order are subject at all times to the approval of the Holy See and to the jurisdiction of Canon Law. The Vatican maintains diplomatic relations with the Order and the Pope nominates a Cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church as his personal representative in the Order to supervise the relations between the Holy See and the Order.

I trust that the foregoing will suffice for your purposes and that it will satisfy you of the legitimacy of the American Association, of which J. Peter Grace is the elected President.

Very truly yours,

John J. Meehan
Administrative Assistant

Dear Mr. Grace:

According to various editions of Who's Who, you are the President of the American Chapter of the Knights of Malta. If at all possible, I would like to purchase copies of the Annual Reports of the Knights of Malta for as many years back as they are available. Please advise if this can be done. Do your Annual Reports contain the complete membership list of the Knights of Malta, like the Annual Reports of the Council on Foreign Relations contain the CFR's membership list? If not, are the annual membership lists of the Knights of Malta available to the public? Finally, do the Knights of Malta have any publications that I can subscribe to and/or purchase? If so, please send me a complete catalogue or list of all of these publications.

I've read some very contradictory allegations regarding your Knights of Malta, particularly with regard to who controls your organization. Some allege that your Knights of Malta are controlled by the Vatican, and are thus part of the Catholic Church, while others allege that your Knights of Malta are controlled by the Order of Zion and allegedly serve the interests of Cabalistic Judaism or Zionism. If I sound confused, frankly I am. Just who does control your Knights of Malta?

I strongly suspect that there is more than one organization calling itself the Knights of Malta, which may account for this confusion. I understand one organization calls itself the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, while another calls itself the Sovereign Order of Saint John of Jerusalem -- Knights of Malta. Is your Knights of Malta affiliated with either of these apparently separate(?) organizations?

Thank you. Awaiting your reply, I am,

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Landkamer

Mr. Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Landkamer:

I do not know precisely when various newspapers stopped publishing the names of undergraduates elected to Yale senior societies. When I was a boy, the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune printed detailed accounts of Yale's sporting events, the names of people graduating from the senior class, the names of those elected to Phi Beta Kappa, to Yale's fraternities and to senior societies. They rarely report on any of those things anymore.

I don't know when and if our society will publish another catalog. I am sure we will think about it again at the end of this decade, but the question has not yet been discussed by the trustees.

It is my understanding that the University Library will not photocopy an entire document until its copyright has expired. I am no expert on copyrights, but I believe you may find that an author's "right" inheres in an original document regardless whether or not he has registered his claim with the federal government. Registering a claim of copyright to an original work, or as you put it "copyrighting" a work may extend the reach of one's protection. But the copyright exists with or without registration. In any event, the University Library policy appears to be based on an author's inherent rights, regardless whether or not they are registered.

Whoever told you that the Kingsley Trust Publishing Fund is a subsidiary of Kingsley Trust Association is mistaken. It is an endowed fund of the Yale University Press. The Kingsley Trust Association has no control over the selection to titles published on the fund by the press. The publication list of the Yale University Press is, as I am sure you know, widely distributed and available in most libraries and bookstores.

Sincerely,

Radley H. Daly

Dear Mr. Daly:

As of this date, I have not received any reply regarding my previous letter to you of February 25, 1985, a photocopy of which I enclose for your instant reference. In any event, I am attempting to purchase photocopies of A History of Scroll and Key from Sterling Memorial Library at Yale University. I previously sent you a photocopy of my self-explanatory letter of March 25, 1985, to Mr. Rutherford D. Rogers of Yale University Library in this regard. Enclosed is another photocopy of that letter for your instant reference. To date, I have not received any reply.

One of my contacts has a book entitled Command of Control of Nuclear Forces, by Paul Bracken, which was published in 1983 by the Kingsley Trust Publishing Fund. Apparently the actual printing of this book was done by Yale University Press. I was told that this book identified the Kingsley Trust Publishing Fund as a subsidiary of your Kingsley Trust Association and your Scroll and Key.

I confess that prior to receiving the above information, I was totally unaware that the Kingsley Trust Association has any kind of publishing subsidiary, and/or that your organization had ever published anything for public consumption. Please send me a complete catalogue or book list of all books and publications that have ever been published either directly or indirectly by the Kingsley Trust Association. Also, please include a current price list in case I want to purchase any of these books and publications. Finally, please send me a copy of the current Annual Report of the Kingsley Trust Association. In fact, I would like to purchase copies of the Annual Reports of the Kingsley Trust Association for as many previous years as they are available. Please advise me as to whether this can be done.

Thank you.

Dear Mr. Daly:

Thank you for your letter of January 29, 1985, in response to my previous letter to you of January 16, 1985. My comments and questions are as follows:

(1) With regard to any possible distinction between secrecy and privacy, I submit that members of possible conspiracies lose their rights to privacy if and/or when they either jointly or singly engage in any illegal or unconstitutional activities. Enclosed are photocopies of the January and February, 1985, issues of Dr. Antony C. Sutton's monthly Phoenix Letter. I submit that there is probable cause to believe that members of your organization's alleged friendly competitor, Skull and Bones, have jointly conspired together in an effort to plan illegal or unconstitutional actions. You need only look at their recorded actions in history.

No doubt members of the Mafia also regard any outside investigation into any of their activities as an invasion of their right to privacy. While I am neither an authority on nor a defender of the Mafia, at least on the surface it would appear that society as a whole should have less to fear from the actions of the Mafia than from Skull and Bones. We are generally free to choose whether we want to do business with the Mafia, and those of us who want nothing to do with the Mafia and any of its activities have thus far been left alone by the Mafia. This is not so with regard to Skull and Bones if you accept the thesis propounded in Dr. Sutton's 3rd book entitled How The Order Creates War and Revolution. Private citizens have been drafted to fight in some of the wars, which have allegedly been created and financed by "The Order" a.k.a. Skull and Bones. While members of the Mafia have engaged in family feuds and have murdered each other in their internal power struggles, etc., I have never heard of any private citizens being drafted to fight in any Mafia war.

(2) I note your statement that in the past the names of the newly elected members of Yale's senior societies were routinely and openly published in various newspapers, but that this practice "was discontinued a few years back, presumably for lack of newsworthiness." Please advise as to precisely when this was discontinued.

(3) I note that the latest Catalogue of the Kingsley Trust Association available to the public at Sterling Memorial Library, Yale University, is dated 1979. Does the Kingsley Trust Association ever intend to make a more recent Catalogue available to the public? If so, when will such a Catalogue be made available?

(4) My sources who have visited Yale have reported that although none of the Catalogues of Yale's senior societies are copyrighted, the librarians at Sterling Memorial Library have refused to allow any one person to photocopy any of these Catalogues in their entirety. Hence, piecing together these documents has required multiple visits to Yale by multiple sources over a prolonged period of time. Are the librarians at Yale adhering to this practice at the request of the Kingsley Trust Association, et al, so as to make it as difficult as possible for independent researchers to piece all of this information together? Also, is the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, copyrighted? If not, can it be photocopied in its entirety at Yale? Better yet, I would like to purchase photocopies directly from you. If you are willing to sell me such photocopies, then please quote me a price.

Thank you.

Very truly yours,

Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Landkamer,

I am sorry to say that there are no more copies of the two volume set "A History of Scroll and Key." When this was published in 1978, only enough copies were printed to distribute to members of the society and to members of the academic administration at Yale. There is a set in the Sterling Memorial Library which you are welcome to refer to. The volume covering the first 100 years of the society was written by Professor Maynard H. Mack. A companion volume covering recent history was written by A. Bartlett Giamatti before he became president of Yale.

If you do visit the Sterling Memorial Library, you may wish to look at various documents going back a hundred years or more in which the names of the members of Yale's senior societies were routinely published at the time of election. You'll find these lists in the New York Herald Tribune, the New York Times, the New Haven newspapers, the Yale Daily News, and in class yearbooks. Not only the names, but often the pictures of the newly elected members were published openly, a practice that was discontinued a few years back, presumably for lack of newsworthiness.

In reading through the materials you have sent me, I have a sense that you and your colleagues have somehow lost the distinction between secrecy and privacy. I would have supposed you to be supportive of the concept of an individual's right to privacy.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Daly:

I never did receive any reply regarding my previous letters to you of April 22 and May 29, 1984, photocopies of which I enclose for your instant reference.

In your letter to me of April 13, 1984, you denied that Scroll and Key is a secret society. It has come to my attention that your Society has published an official History of Scroll and Key. One of my sources alleged that this official History comprises two volumes. While I cannot confirm this, I note that one of your Association's more prominent members is Dr. Angelo Bartlett Giamatti, President of Yale University. His biography is contained on pages 316-317 in your Association's 1979 catalogue, which may be consulted in Sterling Memorial Library at Yale University. The last entry in Dr. Giamatti's biography reads as follows: "History of Scroll and Key, 1942-1972 (published by the Society '78)." Hence, it is a documented fact that at least one volume of your Society's official History does indeed exist, and that this volume was written by Dr. Giamatti, the President of Yale.

I am writing to you because I want to purchase either original copies or photocopies of all volumes of your Association's official History of Scroll and Key. Certainly if you are not a secret society, as you alleged in your above letter to me of April 13, 1984, then I should be able to purchase copies of your Society's official History. Indeed, I should think that you would want me to have copies of all volumes of your Society's official History, so that I can have access to accurate information about your Society. Or do you consider everything that Dr. Antony C. Sutton has published about Scroll and Key (Kingsley Trust Association) to date to be 100% accurate, so that there is no need for anyone to be able to independently verify or refute any of Dr. Sutton's charges? I await your reply to this request.

Very truly yours,

Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Daly:

As of this date, I have not received any reply regarding my previous letter to you of April 22, 1984, a photocopy of which I enclose for your instant reference. I rather expected to have received a reply from you by now, particularly regarding the last paragraph of that letter, which I think is self-explanatory.

Enclosed is a photocopy of the May, 1984, issue of Dr. Antony C. Sutton's monthly Phoenix Letter. As you can see, volume 3 of Dr. Sutton's series of books regarding "The Order" has now been published, namely How The Order Creates War and Revolution. I think it is the most explosive and controversial volume of "The Order" series published thus far. For example, the following summary extract is quoted from page 103 in Dr. Sutton's How The Order Creates War and Revolution:

"Just as we found the Bush family involved with the early development of the Soviet Union, then with financing the Nazis, and vaguely behind the scenes in Angola, so we find a Bush active in construction of the new dialectic arm: Communist China."

I have no idea how Vice President Bush and "The Order" will respond to these latest charges--of which the above is a small sample extract--or if they even will respond. The enclosed photocopy of my letter of May 19, 1984, to Mr. M. Stanton Evans is a summary of where my research into this matter stood immediately prior to receiving Dr. Sutton's May, 1984, Phoenix Letter, along with his above cited book.

Mr. Daly, if Scroll and Key is not in any way affiliated with "The Order", and if Scroll and Key is not a secret society, as you stated in your letter to me of April 13, 1984, then I again urge you to provide me with your organization's complete membership list, along with all the other information which I requested in the last paragraph of my above previous letter to you of April 22, 1984.

Awaiting your reply, I am,

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Daly:

Thank you for your letter of April 13th in response to my previous letter to you of March 31, 1984. I note your statement to me that "Scroll and Key is not a part of anything called 'The Order'", and that you "have been associated with the (Scroll and Key) Society for 35 years and had never seen nor heard of the term until it appeared" in my above previous letter to you. I also note your statement that your organization has "no affiliation with Skull and Bones", and that "we regard each other as friendly competitors".

Under separate cover I have mailed you photocopies of some back issues of Dr. Antony G. Sutton's monthly Phoenix Letter. Also, I enclosed a photocopy of a form for ordering copies of the first two of Dr. Sutton's series of books regarding "The Order", namely (1) An Introduction to The Order, and (2) How The Order Controls Education. Since you stated that you had never heard of "The Order" prior to receiving my above previous letter to you, I am sure that you and other members of Scroll and Key will want to educate yourselves on this highly controversial organization.

Enclosed are photocopies of my "public" correspondence file regarding Vice President George Bush and his apparent involvement with "The Order". After you have read all of these documents, I trust that you will agree that by Election Day 1984, the issue of Vice President Bush and "The Order" could become as politically controversial as Watergate was approximately a decade ago. You don't have to believe in any of Dr. Sutton's conspiracy theories (most of which have yet to be proven) for this to become a politically controversial issue. We already have the explosive political issue of the possibility of the U.S. Government being secretly controlled—or at least influenced—by secret members of an apparently secret organization, whose goals, objectives, and vested special interests have to date been kept a deep dark secret from the voters. Even if "The Order" is as pure as the driven snow (which I very much doubt), the potential for conflict of interest in this situation is enormous. If Vice President Bush and the Reagan Administration believes that the electorate would approve of this situation, then why is the Reagan Administration adamantly refusing to respond to my previous letters to President Reagan dated February 27 and March 30, 1984? (See enclosed photocopies.)

What I'm leading up to is this: If Scroll and Key is not in any way affiliated with "The Order", as you state in your above letter to me, then I think your organization will want to bend over backwards to publicly disassociate itself from even the remotest taint of being associated with "The Order". Hence, I reiterate the request contained in my above previous letter that you furnish me with a complete list of all officers and directors of your organization, along with a list of all those who serve on your organization's various committees, etc. Also, I again repeat my request for a complete list of all of your organization's past and present members, or can this be obtained from Yale University Library? As of this date, I have not received any reply to my letter of March 31, 1984, to Mr. Rutherford D. Rogers of Yale University Library (see enclosed photocopy). If you are not a secret society, then certainly anyone should be able to obtain all of this information from some source. I await your reply.

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Landkamer

KINGSLEY TRUST ASSOCIATION

April 13, 1984

Mr. Richard A. Landkamer
3805 Sherwood Lane, Apt 21
Houston, Texas 77092

Dear Mr. Landkamer:

The Kingsley Trust Association is the parent body of the Scroll and Key Society and is chartered by the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut. Scroll and Key is a senior society at Yale. Many years ago Yale had some fraternities and societies for which only members of the sophomore class were eligible, some of which only members of the junior class were eligible, and some for which only members of the senior class were eligible. Scroll and Key elects new members at the end of their junior year at Yale to be participants in its program during their senior year. Thus the term "senior society".

The term "secret society" is not part of our Society's language. Indeed, our history and the nature of our organization have been widely publicized within the Yale community. However, students are not unaccustomed to thinking of fraternities and societies as secret, a description which may have been apt some years ago, but is hardly true today.

Scroll and Key is not a part of anything called "The Order". I have been associated with the Society for 35 years and had never seen nor heard of the term until it appeared in your letter. We have no affiliation with Skull and Bones. We regard each other as friendly competitors.

As noted above, our members are elected from the junior class. None are elected after graduation. A goodly number of our graduated members return to the campus from time to time for our social activities.

Our Society has no swearing in ceremony. We have no oath of membership. We have no secrecy oath. Our members are quite free to cite their membership in Scroll and Key whenever they please. Some do. Some don't.

TO: Mr. Richard A. Landkamer

April 13, 1984

I am sorry not to be able to respond to your request for a list of our members. In these days when there are so many mailing lists about, we feel it is important to respect our members' rights to privacy. Anyone who has a legitimate reason to make use of the Yale University Library can, of course, consult our catalogue.

Our officers and trustees are elected by the membership and serve on a voluntary basis. We have the typical arrangement of an executive committee, a speakers committee, a house committee, a finance committee, etc. Their functions are as they would be in any fraternal organization. The objectives of our Society as quoted from our charter are "for the sole purpose of the intellectual and moral improvement and culture" of the members. It would not be unfair to characterize our activities as having a general intellectual tilt. We have something of a tradition that our members never say "no" when asked to give service to Yale. Many of us have helped with fund-raising, served on University committees and have been active in alumni affairs around the world.

An observer of our occasional gatherings would report that we seem to enjoy each other's company; we sing badly; some of our jokes are better than others; and as is true with most people, we get more sentimental as we grow older.

Cordially,

Dear Mr. Daly:

I am currently attempting to research an apparent secret organization known as "The Order". According to some of the research writings of Dr. Antony C. Sutton, Yale's Skull and Bones is an integral part of "The Order". The following excerpt is quoted from page 5 of the February, 1984, issue of The Phoenix Letter (see enclosed photocopy), edited by Dr. Antony C. Sutton:

"Who, or what, is Kingsley Trust? It is a.k.a. Scroll & Key--another Yale senior society. We suspect it is a part of, perhaps a chapter of, The Order.... members included Dean Acheson (NSC/68) and Cy Vance."

You will also note that Mr. Rutherford D. Rogers, University Librarian at Yale University Library, referred Dr. Sutton directly to you for information regarding the Kingsley Trust Association. Since I am attempting to conduct my own research into this matter, I am writing to you to request the following materials and information regarding Scroll and Key and the Kingsley Trust Association:

(1) Is Scroll and Key part of--or in any way affiliated with--what Dr. Sutton refers to as "The Order"? Put another way, is Scroll and Key and/or the Kingsley Trust Association in any way affiliated with Yale's Skull and Bones and/or the Russell Trust Association? Please answer this question in full and complete detail.

(2) Is Scroll and Key strictly a college organization at Yale University, or are its members selected primarily--or at least partially--for participation in this organization's activities after they graduate from Yale University? Put another way, do the members of Scroll and Key continue to participate in this organization's activities, etc., after they graduate from Yale University? If so, what specific activities do they participate in? Please explain in complete detail.

(3) Is Scroll and Key a secret organization, as has been alleged by Dr. Sutton? Do its members take any oath to keep their membership in this organization secret? Are your organization's members permitted to cite their past or present membership in any of their biographies or other documents of public record? If so, then please give me the names of some of your more prominent members who have cited their membership in Scroll and Key in their published biographies, etc.

(4) If you are not a secret organization, then I request that you send me a complete list of all of your organization's past and present members. Also, does your organization publish any Annual Reports? If so, please send me copies of all of your organization's Annual Reports for as far back as they are available.

(5) If you are not a secret organization, then who are the officers and directors of your organization, and what are its goals, objectives, and purposes, etc.? Does your organization have some kind of executive committee or council that controls finances and makes basic decisions, etc.? If so, who are the members of this executive committee? Please provide me with all of this information in full detail.

Thank you. Awaiting your response, I am,

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Guardiani:

Thank you very much for your letter of August 7. I have consulted with various people in the University Library and have learned that the Library does hold the two-volume history of Scroll and Key in its collection but because of the copyright laws, they are unable to copy entire volumes. You are, of course, welcome to visit New Haven and examine the volumes yourself.

Regarding your third request, we are uncertain of the exact title you are looking for, but the Library's Manuscripts and Archives Department has a complete collection of publications about the society, so it would probably be beneficial for you to come here.

Dear Ms. Twarowski:

The April 19, 1985 issue of The New Haven Register carried a large article on page 45 about the Yale Secret Societies. As a result, we are researching for materials, articles, books, pamphlets, catalogues or any information about various college societies in the U.S. for a possible series of magazine articles.

Since Yale is so close by we are starting here in the Northeast and would appreciate any assistance you can render.

At this point, I am interested in obtaining copies or even photocopies of the following 3 books:

1. Vol. II History of Scroll & Key 1942-72, author Mr. Giamatti
Publisher-The Society 1978. 64 pages
2. Vol. I History of Scroll & Key 1842-1942, author Maynard Mack
252 pages
3. Founding of Wolf's Head published by the Phelps Association in the 1930's or 40's.

If you can let me know how I can acquire these I would, of course, pay for any costs involved.

I would also appreciate your letting me know where I can obtain additional information.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Dr. A. Bartlett Giamatti
President

Dear Dr. Giamatti:

Thank you for your letter of August 30, 1985, in response to my previous letter to you of July 12th. Enclosed is a photocopy of the letter of August 2, 1985, that I received from Mr. Jack A. Siggins, Yale's Deputy University Librarian. As you can see, Yale University Library flatly refuses to sell me photocopies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, of which you are the author of the second volume.

I can only conclude that Scroll and Key a.k.a. the Kingsley Trust Association must be a Society with a secret history that it wants concealed from public scrutiny. If this is not the case, then why do both you and Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association, keep referring me to a dead end -- namely Yale University Library -- every time I try to purchase copies and/or photocopies of the complete two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key? I refer to Yale University Library as a dead end because all of my attempts to purchase photocopies of this official History of Scroll and Key from that source have been a venture in futility. In his letter to me of April 13, 1984, Mr. Daly denied that Scroll and Key is a secret society, and alleged that the "history and nature" of Scroll and Key "have been widely publicized within the Yale community". If this is true, then why is it impossible for me to purchase photocopies of A History of Scroll and Key from any source?

What history and/or secrets are in the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, that must be concealed from the American people? Since you are the author of volume 2 of this History, as well as a prominent member of Scroll and Key and President of Yale, I cannot think of anyone more qualified than you to answer this.

Finally, enclosed are some additional items pertaining to my research into the JFK Assassination that I wish to donate to Yale University Library.

Awaiting your reply, I am,

Dear Mr. Landkamer:

I am answering your letters of March 25 and April 26 addressed to the University Librarian, Mr. Rutherford Rogers. Mr. Rogers retired in December 1984.

A History of Scroll and Key bears a copyright date of 1978. We are prohibited, therefore, from photocopying the entire work as you requested. I am, however, enclosing copies of the guides to the Henry Stimson papers and diaries which you purchased with your check for four dollars.

In response to your other requests, I am also enclosing a list of collections in Manuscripts and Archives which are available for microfilm purchase. The papers of Thomas Day Thacher, comprised of thirty-one linear feet, are described in a register of sixty-three pages. The register can be ordered for our minimum mail order charge of $12.00. Thomas Day Thacher is listed as a correspondent in the following groups of papers: the Charles M. Andrews Papers, the Williams Adams Delano Papers, the James Rockwell Sheffield Papers, the Walter Lippman Papers, and the Harold Phelps Stokes Papers. You are welcome to order photocopies of these finding aids as well at a charge of 5 cents per page. Please be advised, however, that the finding aids describe the overall arrangement and organization of the papers and do not contain descriptions of the contents of individual letters or other documents within the papers.

Orders for the Thacher register and microfilm may be placed directly with Manuscripts and Archives, Yale University Library, Box 1603A, Yale Station, New Haven, CT 06520.

July 12, 1985

Dr. A. Bartlett Giamatti
President
Yale University
New Haven, Connecticut 06520

Dear Dr. Giamatti:

I previously sent you photocopies of my as of this date unanswered letters of March 25, April 26, and June 7, 1985, to Mr. Rutherford D. Rogers, University Librarian, Yale University Library. In my June 7th letter to Mr. Rogers I stated that I had been informed that you had resigned as President of Yale University, effective June 30, 1985. I have subsequently been informed that my information was only partially correct in that while you have indeed resigned as President of Yale University, your resignation is not effective until June 30 of next year, 1986.

Therefore, I am writing to you about my thus far futile attempts to purchase photocopies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, from Yale University Library. This History should be very familiar to you, since you are the author of Volume 2. On January 29, 1985, Mr. Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association, referred me to Sterling Memorial Library at Yale University when I attempted to purchase either copies or photocopies of this two volume History from him. Consequently, on the above three occasions I wrote to Mr. Rogers via certified mail, return receipt, in a thus far futile attempt to purchase photocopies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key. All I got back were 3 return receipts.

Mr. Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association, alleged the following in his letter to me dated April 13, 1984:

"The term 'secret society' is not a part of our Society's language. Indeed, our history and the nature of our organization have been widely publicized within the Yale community. However, students are not unaccustomed to thinking of fraternities and societies as secret, a description which may have been apt some years ago, but is hardly true today."

If the above quoted allegations of Mr. Daly are true, then why is the above two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, being treated like a "state secret -- for eyes of members only"? Since you are both the President of Yale University and the author of Volume 2 of A History of Scroll and Key, I cannot think of anyone more qualified than you to answer this question. If Mr. Daly's above quoted allegations are to be taken at face value, then I should think that both the Kingsley Trust Association and Sterling Memorial Library would be clamoring to sell me photocopies of A History of Scroll and Key. You cannot have it both ways: You cannot claim that Scroll and Key is not a secret society while simultaneously refusing to respond to all of my attempts to purchase photocopies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key. Is Scroll and Key a Society with some sordid secrets?

I previously sent Mr. Rogers photocopies of all of my correspondence with Mr. William F. Buckley, Jr. Enclosed is a photocopy of my as of this date unanswered follow up letter to Mr. Buckley of June 21, 1985, along with photocopies of a related Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) inquiry that I sent to the Central Intelligence Agency on June 24, 1985. I request that you add these photocopies to Yale University Library's collection of the major contributions and writings of William F. Buckley, Jr. Again, if/when I receive any replies to these letters, I will certainly send you photocopies, so this information can be freely available to all.

Dear Mr. Rogers:

As of this date, I have not received any reply regarding my previous letters to you of March 25 and April 26, 1985, photocopies of which I enclose for your instant reference.

Since you refuse to respond to my letters, I considered writing directly to Dr. A. Bartlett Giamatti, President of Yale University and author of the second volume of A History of Scroll and Key. However, I have been informed that Dr. Giamatti has resigned as President of Yale effective June 30, 1985. If this information is incorrect, please let me know. At this time, I do not know who Dr. Giamatti's successor is or will be, but presumably I will have to write to him if you continue to refuse to respond to my communications. So is Yale University going to sell me photocopies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, or not?

Enclosed are photocopies of all of my correspondence to date with Mr. William F. Buckley, Jr. I request that you add this to your Library's collection of the major contributions and writings of Mr. William F. Buckley, Jr. If and when Mr. Buckley replies to my letter to him of May 17, 1985, I will certainly send you a copy of his reply. This information should be made freely available to the public.

Actually, I would be delighted to send you photocopies of my "public" file to date regarding my investigation into "The Order" a.k.a. Skull and Bones and related matters. The only stipulation that I would impose is that everything I send to you must be made freely available to anyone who wants access to it, and that unlimited photocopies be made available to whoever wants to purchase such photocopies. The ability to penetrate CIA-type secrecy should not be a prerequisite to doing any research at Yale. So awaiting your reply, I am,

Dear Mr. Rogers:

As of this date, I have not received any reply regarding my previous letter to you of March 25, 1985, a photocopy of which I enclose for your instant reference. However, in today's mail I received a reply of April 23, 1985, from Mr. Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association, a photocopy of which I enclose.

You will note that Mr. Daly does not indicate whether the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, is copyrighted. Furthermore, if it is copyrighted, then who owns the copyrights, i.e., the individual authors of those two volumes, or the Kingsley Trust Association? This becomes even more significant when you realize that the author of the 2nd volume of A History of Scroll and Key is Dr. A Bartlett Giamatti, the present President of Yale University.

Mr. Daly writes about an "author's inherent rights", but he states nothing about documents and catalogues published by organizations and apparent secret societies. In his original letter to me of last April 13, 1984, Mr. Daly denied that Scroll and Key is a secret society. If this is true, then I should think that the Kingsley Trust Association would be clamoring to furnish me with a copy of their official history, so that I would have access to accurate information about this organization. Such is obviously not the case however. So is Yale University going to sell me photocopies of the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, or not? If I cannot obtain these photocopies, then I can only presume that at an absolute minimum Scroll and Key is a society with many secrets in their official history, which they do not want to make available to the public.

On a different matter concerning your Library, Dr. Antony C. Sutton recently purchased copies of the finding aid Guides to both the Papers and the Diaries of Henry Lewis Stimson from your Library for $4.00. (See enclosed photocopies.) Enclosed is my check to Yale University Library for $4.00. Please send me copies of these same documents. Are there similar Guides available to the non-microfilm editions of the Papers and Diaries of Henry L. Stimson, which presumably would be for ordering photocopies of the actual documents themselves? If so, how much does it cost to purchase such Guides? Also, how much does it cost to purchase each microfilm reel referred to in the above Guides? Most important of all, can the contents of each reel be purchased in non-microfilm (i.e., photocopy or other printed) form? This is very important to me since I do not have a microfilm reader, and I would like to purchase photocopies or other printed copies of the contents of some of these reels. Please send me complete information for purchasing these materials.

Finally, enclosed are photocopies of my recent correspondence with Mr. William F. Buckley, Jr. Since I note that your Library has some of Mr. Buckley's writings, I am sure that you will want to add copies of this correspondence to your Buckley collection. Hence, I wish to make this small contribution to your Library's collection of the major contributions and writings of Mr. William F. Buckley, Jr.

Thank you. Awaiting your reply, I am,

Very truly yours,

March 25, 1985

Mr. Rutherford D. Rogers
University Librarian
Yale University Library
New Haven, Connecticut 06520

Dear Mr. Rogers:

First, I direct your attention to the enclosed photocopies of my recent correspondence with Mr. Radley H. Daly, Treasurer of the Kingsley Trust Association. I am writing to you because I wish to purchase photocopies of the entire two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, as referred to in the enclosed photocopies of my correspondence with Mr. Daly. As of this date, I have not received any reply to my letter of February 25, 1985, to Mr. Daly. I presume that the two volume set, A History of Scroll and Key, is not copyrighted, although I am requesting that my Washington contact check this out at the Library of Congress. It is my understanding that copies of all copyrighted books must be deposited at the Library of Congress. Hence, if A History of Scroll and Key is not copyrighted, then I request that you advise me as to the cost for purchasing photocopies of this entire two volume set.

Also, enclosed are photocopies of the February and March, 1985, issues of Dr. Antony C. Sutton's monthly Phoenix Letter. You will note that my project for conducting independent research into "The Order" and related matters is referred to in both of these issues. In this regard, some anonymous sources have sent me stacks of photocopies of documents on a piecemeal basis, which originated from Sterling Memorial Library at Yale University. I have yet to see any legal notice of copyright on any of these documents from Sterling Memorial Library. However, my sources have reported a very strange thing: Although none of these documents are copyrighted, your University's librarians at Sterling Memorial Library have refused to allow any one person to photocopy certain documents in their entirety. In this context, I refer specifically to the Catalogues of some of Yale's senior societies. Hence, piecing together these Catalogues has required multiple visits to Yale by multiple sources over a prolonged period of time. This is hardly the free flow of information that is inferred in the enclosed photocopy of the letter of January 29, 1985, which I received from Mr. Daly of the Kingsley Trust Association. Indeed, one of my sources sent me a photocopy of an undated brochure from "The Yale University Library Manuscripts & Archives", which contains the following paragraph:

"Photoduplication requests will be considered when such copying can be done without injury to the manuscripts. The Library reserves the right to request the return of photocopies and to prohibit the making of duplicate copies from those furnished by the library. Photocopies may not be examined by or transferred to any other person or institution. A list of charges for reproduction services is available upon request."

How do you intend to prohibit the transfer of photocopies from Yale University Library when the original documents are not copyrighted? I get the distinct impression that a helpful prerequisite for doing research at Sterling Memorial Library is the ability to penetrate CIA type secrecy. In any event, I eagerly await your reply as to whether you are willing to sell me photocopies of A History of Scroll and Key.

Finally, I have two other requests: (1) Please send me a complete list of all collections available for purchase on microfilm. I understand that you have a brochure detailing most of this information. (2) I would like to purchase all available Finding Aids for the papers in your collection for Mr. Thomas Day Thacher. Please advise me of the cost of purchasing these Finding Aids. Thank you.

Dear Mr. Landkamer,

The primary mission of the Yale Library is to serve the faculty and student body of this institution. To the extent permitted by a very limited staff we try to assist scholars from other institutions, but we are not in a position to engage in unlimited correspondence.

I regret to inform you that we have devoted as much time to your investigation as we can. If you wish to come to New Haven, we will permit you the use of our facilities according to regulations that apply to non-Yale individuals. Other than that, we cannot, nor are we obliged to, answer the extensive interrogatories that you keep sending us.

The Sterling Memorial Library is the central library of the Yale University Library system. Manuscripts and Archives is a department of the Yale University Library and is located on the first floor of Sterling, near the Wall Street entrance.

The call numbers you describe are for books and other printed matter in Manuscripts and Archives. Cards for "Y" books are filed in both the central catalogue of the Yale University Library and in the departmental catalogue of Manuscripts and Archives. Publications of the senior societies that were given to the library over the years were catalogued in this manner. As indicated in my earlier letter these publications are available for examination in the reading room of Manuscripts and Archives.

A researcher visiting the reading room may request photocopies of selected pages from any of these publications. However, it is simply not possible by correspondence to give you a categorical answer about copying without a specific request.

None of the senior societies has deposited publications, if there are such, with the Library in recent years, and I do not have the names and addresses of their current members.

Sincerely yours,

Rutherford D. Rogers

Dear Mr. Rogers:

Thank you for your letter of March 12, 1984, in response to my previous letter to you of February 28th. I am rather confused as to the relationship--if any--between the Yale University Library and the reading room of Manuscripts and Archives, Sterling Memorial Library, to which you referred me in your letter. Are these two separate libraries at Yale University? Do these two(?) libraries have or use a single or joint combined Yale Catalogue Call Number structure between them?

On page 5 of the February, 1984, Phoenix Letter (a photocopy of which I enclosed along with my above previous letter to you of February 28th), Dr. Antony C. Sutton cited Yale Catalogue Call Numbers Yeg2 K61c (Kingsley Trust Association) and Yeg2 R9c (Russell Trust), which apparently existed at one time in at least one of the libraries at Yale University. Where did and/or do these Yale Catalogue Call Numbers exist, and precisely where may the corresponding materials and publications be found? Evidently Dr. Sutton was able to obtain at least some of these materials in the past, and apparently he obtained some of them by corresponding directly with you. Where did Dr. Sutton obtain these materials and Yale Catalogue Call Numbers, etc.? Did he obtain them from the Yale University Library, or from the reading room of Manuscripts and Archives, Sterling Memorial Library, or where? Please clarify this confusing matter for me.

Most important of all, do the above cited Yale Catalogue Call Numbers Yeg2 K61c (Kingsley Trust Association) and Yeg2 R9c (Russell Trust) still exist? If either or both of these Yale Catalogue Call Numbers do still exist, then precisely where can the corresponding materials and publications, etc., be found? Also, if any of these publications, etc., do still exist, are they protected by U.S. copyright laws? Can any or all of these publications be photocopied in their entirety, or in part? If I or anyone else decide to visit Yale University for the purpose of researching all of these materials and publications, precisely what would anyone be permitted to photocopy? Please clarify this matter in complete detail.

Finally, you state that there are at least seven senior year societies at Yale University, and you named seven of them. Please send me the names and addresses of the appropriate officers of each of these seven organizations, so that I may write to each of them for materials and information. You will note from the enclosed photocopies that I have already written to two of these organizations, i.e., the Russell Trust Association and the Kingsley Trust Association, and it appears that I have the correct contacts and addresses for these two organizations. However, if you have any additional names and addresses for contacting these two organizations, then please provide me with them. Also, please provide me with the names and addresses of someone to contact at each of the other Yale senior societies, so that I can write to them for materials and information, etc. Other than Skull and Bones, are any of these other organizations secret societies?

In conclusion, I would greatly appreciate hearing from you regarding the above matters as soon as possible. Awaiting your response, I am,

Very truly yours,

Richard A. Landkamer

Dear Mr. Landkamer,

I am responding to your inquiry of February 28. The senior societies have been a Yale tradition since the mid-nineteenth century. There is very little general information about them in recent publications. There are at least seven on campus: Skull and Bones, founded in 1832, Scroll and Key (1842), Berzelius (1848), Book and Snake (1863), Wolf's Head (1855), Elihu (1903), and Manuscript (1952). Each annually elects fifteen outstanding members of the junior class who have, in some way, contributed to the Yale community.

The files and papers of the senior societies have not been deposited in the Library. It is for that reason that I referred Mr. Sutton to the Kingsley Trust. All of the publications of the senior societies which have been donated to the Library over the years are available for examination in the reading room of Manuscripts and Archives, Sterling Memorial Library. The reading room is open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Due to the copyright laws protecting U.S. publications, books under copyright cannot be photocopied in their entirety.

Cordially,

Rutherford D. Rogers

Dear Mr. Rogers:

According to the February, 1984, issue of The Phoenix Letter (see enclosed photocopy), researchers are currently being denied any access to the files and papers of both the Russell Trust (also known as Skull and Bones) and the Kingsley Trust Association (Scroll & Key), although previously such materials were openly available to anyone. Are these allegations true? If so, please advise me of the precise date(s) that all further access to these papers was cut off to any outside researchers and other interested parties.

You will note that Dr. Sutton alleges the following on page 5 of the enclosed February, 1984, Phoenix Letter:

"Note this: The requested material was open to researchers as late as mid-1983 because previous requests were fulfilled promptly. Access was closed off sometime between July and November, 1983, after remaining available for years, some for almost a century."

Are these allegations correct? Please advise.

If any materials and information pertaining to either the Russell Trust and/or the Kingsley Trust Association are still available from any source at Yale University, I would like to purchase photocopies of all such materials. I would particularly like to purchase photocopies of the complete catalogue lists of members of these two organizations. Please advise if this can possibly be done, and if so, what is the cost of such photocopied materials?

Finally, for the past three months I have been attempting to ascertain whether Vice President George Bush joined Skull and Bones when he attended Yale University. You will note from the enclosed documents that I have twice propounded this question to Vice President Bush, but he absolutely refuses to provide anyone with any information regarding his past(?) involvement with Skull and Bones. On February 9, 1984, Vice President Bush's Acting Press Secretary wrote me to the effect that I must request this information from Yale University. See the enclosed photocopies of my December 24, 1983, letter to Vice President Bush, and the February 9, 1984, reply that I received from Vice President Bush's Acting Press Secretary. Therefore, please construe this as my formal request to Yale University for whatever information that Yale University can provide with regard to Skull and Bones, and particularly if Vice President Bush ever joined Skull and Bones.

In conclusion, I would greatly appreciate hearing from you regarding the above matters as soon as possible. Awaiting your response, I am,

Very truly yours,
